

For Immediate Release

Landis Company Warehouse and Distribution under New Ownership Fulfillment Industry Veteran Rob Tompkins Becomes President and CEO

READING, PA, November 10, 2008 – Landis Company Warehouse and Distribution announced that it is under new ownership following the sale of the company by retired founder Richard Landis. The new majority owner is Robert F. Tompkins, a 14-year veteran of the fulfillment and logistics industry. Tompkins has become President and Chief Executive Officer and assumes day-to-day responsibility of the company, which will now operate under the name Landis Company.

Landis was founded in 1995 and has grown into a leader in warehousing, third party fulfillment, and logistics services. The company serves numerous top brands in the Mid Atlantic region, including Dietrich's Milk Products, Hershey Foods, Master Foods, and many others.

"Landis' growth and success is the result of the dedicated efforts of our employees and our company wide commitment to quality and customer satisfaction. I am pleased to have led such a great organization for the past 13 years," commented Rich Landis. "As the company now looks to further grow its core business and expand its fulfillment-related offerings, Rob Tompkins is ideally suited to lead the company moving forward. His diverse fulfillment industry background will bring new ideas and fresh insights for serving our existing customers and growing Landis' business."

Tompkins takes the helm at Landis following an extensive career in the fulfillment and logistics industry. Most recently, he was Vice President of Sales at EchoData Group, a third party fulfillment company in Coatesville, PA. Prior to that, Tompkins was Vice President of Sales in the eastern U.S. region for Aero Fulfillment Services (Mason, OH). At Aero, Tompkins managed strategic selling and growth activities on the east coast and was responsible for accounts that totaled more than 30% of the company's revenue.

Before Aero, Tompkins was President and General Manager of Resolve Corporation (Norristown, PA), formerly known as DDS Harris, Ltd. In this role, he was responsible for day-to-day management of a $10 million division of an industry leading marketing support services and fulfillment company. Tompkins holds an undergraduate degree in Economics from St. Lawrence University (New York).

"I look forward to leading the Landis' team as we focus on the continued growth and expansion of our business," added Tompkins. "With outstanding people, proven operational expertise, and a strong commitment to customer satisfaction, Landis is perfectly positioned to reach the next level. This is an exciting time to be heading this dynamic and growing company."

About Landis Company:

Headquartered in Reading, PA, Landis Company is a full service provider of warehousing, fulfillment, and logistics services. The company's offerings include contract warehousing, pick and pack and bulk fulfillment, retail channel distribution, inventory management, assembly and packaging, freight and transportation management, and supply chain logistics. Landis operates a 133,000 square foot warehouse strategically located on the East Coast corridor. For more information call 1-800-667-5947 or visit www.landislogistics.com